The New Horizon of Tea

BRING THE TEMPLE HOME

Hari Tea

Now you can bring the temple home. The New Horizon of Tea

80°C

You can experience the delicious, undistracted silence of the present moment with a delicious beverage filled with new treasures of antiquity

These artisanal blends of organic herbs and spices, formulated in the ancient ways, are nestled in pure cotton bags, where the loose tea mixtures can relax completely and release their full flavours.

These soul-satisfying teas can be found in four categories:
Mental, Spiritual,
Inspirational and Physical.

- Mental

Our poor tired brains.. so much information to hold.

Where is there room for creativity? These clearly delicious Hari Teas are created for your pleasure.

Mindscape – Aha! I understand! GINGER & LEMON

Persistence of Memory – Promote random access to your files. SENCHA GREEN TEA & GINKGO

Sometimes your brain seems to get a little fuzzy. Maybe you are slow to get rolling in the morning. Maybe you just get that afternoon slump. Maybe you feel a step behind in your Friday night card game. When the mindscape is in focus, you get clarity of thought.

You are relaxed, but crisp

Sometimes it feels like the drawer is open and the file is right there, but the printing is in some other language. It is the persistence of memory that we count on. And don't forget the great taste of sencha green tea and ginkgo.

- like the taste of a classic
- ginger and lemon.

Spiritual

To commune with our inner selves – to feel connected to life – to hold a state of quiet – to be entirely present at any moment.. isn't this what we crave? And isn't this the most satisfying way to get it?

Inner Connection -

Welcome home, it's where the heart is.

THYME & ROOIBOS

Heart Center Calm –

Open the window to your Heart Center.

LINDEN FLOWER & CHAMOMILE

Within & Without –
Open all your eyes.
JASMINE GREEN TEA
& GINGER

Face the moment— Feel self-supported. ROSE & HIBISCUS

Life presents you with a crucial situation. Not even your best friends and advisers can tell you what to do. Where do you go? The highest wisdom is inside.

You must connect with that part of you that is part of everything, the inner connection. Through the door of the heart lies what you crave. And why should your taste buds suffer?

Thyme and rooibos connect beautifully with your senses.

Feel vaguely uneasy – a little anxious, sometimes with no reason? When the heart center is calm, you feel your awareness right there. When you see through the window of your heart, everything seems calmer and more delicious, especially with linden flower and chamomile.

How many eyes do we have, anyway? There are many different names for the way we receive information from someplace other than the five senses. The sixth sense, intuition, clairvoyance, the third eye – you have experienced it at one time or another, within and without. Delicious feeling.. delicious taste with green jasmine tea and ginger.

Fear can be a useful emotion. A little helps you get across the street in one piece. But what if there is nothing to fear and you are already in the habit of fearing? Who needs that kind of distraction? Why not face the moment with a delicious rose and hibiscus beverage?

Inspirational

Everyday life can be a little ...everyday. But doesn't every moment have something special, if only we can see it.

New Sensation – Remember the freshnessof youth. HIBISCUS & MINT

Life in Balance – Enjoy equilibrium.
BLACK TEA & CHAI
SPICES

Mystery of Desire – Surrender to attraction.
Choco & Chilli

What adult doesn't look back and wistfully remember a time when he or she had more plentiful energy? We spend enormous amounts of time and money trying to satisfy the longing for the feeling of newness - eagerness to take on life with no thought of limitation. We love the old feeling of a new sensation. And we certainly love the refreshing taste of hibiscus and mint.

What is your body made of?
In the most elementary sense: earth, water, fire, air and ether. You probably don't think much about them, but if they get out of balance, you feel it. How do you feel? Why it's elementary, my dear. Enjoy life in balance with black tea and just the right exotic blend of chai spices.

What happens between no interest and arousal of desire? One minute, your libido is resting comfortably; the next minute, it seems to invade every cell. Is it chemical? An aroma that takes you back to another time? A disturbance in the electromagnetic field? Perhaps some things are better left unknown. We celebrate the mystery of desire.. and the mystery of chocolate and chilli too.

Physical

We ask a lot of our bodies, pushing the envelope daily. Why not add a cup of wonderful tasting support?

Tummy in Harmony –
Peace at last.
Honeybush
& Rosemary

Inner Flow –
The heart knows the way.
GREEN TEA & MINT & CHILLI

There are times when the stomach becomes rebellious. Perhaps it is jealous of some new relationship that you have introduced to it. It refuses to accept this intrusion. Having a tummy in harmony keeps the rest of you happy. After all, you and your food are part of the same God. And honeybush and rosemary have flavours that go hand in hand.

Blood never rests.

It must keep moving to do its job. With a strong inner flow, you feel ready for anything. With the taste of chilli and mint, your mouth feels excited.
